ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, not just a conglomeration of more than 300 institutions, but a culture, a saga, a holy journey, started by Dr. K.M. Munshi with the blessings of Mahatma Gandhi in 1938.

Imparting value-based education with Indian cultural ethos has always been the motto of Bhavan. In 1957, the Bhartiya Vidya Bhavan conceived the idea of establishing an engineering college in Mumbai and it resulted in the establishment of Sardar Patel College of Engineering on 19th August 1962. This also received grant-in-aid from the Government of Maharashtra.

In 1995, self-financed engineering courses were added to it and it functioned as Sardar Patel College of Engineering (Unaided wing) from 2005 till 2008. Unaided Wing was established under the name and style of Bhartiya Vidya Bhavan's Sardar Patel Institute of Technology since 2005 and is permanently affiliated to Mumbai University, it received the autonomous status in 2017.

SP-IT is consistently ranked among top 100-150 Institutes in the country by various reputed surveys including the NIRF. In addition to these programs Electronics and Telecommunication and Computer Engineering Departments have started Ph.D. program from 2012. Four Ph. D. Programs are run the institute.
